The world this week
The coldest continent

Where are we this week?

There are no countries!

This continent begins with an 'A'

It surrounds the South Pole.

It is Antarctica!

It's the fifth largest and the coldest continent on Earth. It has no permanent residents.

There are no cities, only research stations run by different countries!

Each station has a different time zone!

Hello!

Privet!

Hola!

Hallo!

Salut!

Why is Antarctica in the news?

In 2041 the Antarctic Treaty, the special agreement designed to protect Antarctica expires....

...Countries around the world will come together to discuss what should happen to this amazing continent.

Rob Swan, the first person in history to walk to both the North and South Poles, is the founder of the 2041 Foundation.

He is inviting you to become Champions of Antarctica and a 2041 School...

...Will you stand up for Antarctica when the time comes?

Rob has invited Oddizzi back to Antarctica in December. Olive (14) and the Oddizzi team will be making lots of films for you!

They will be looking at what the weather is like in Antarctica...

...what the landscape is like, and what it is like to live and work there!

Over to you!

If you could ask Rob or someone who lives in Antarctica a question what would it be? If you send it to jenny@oddizzi.com perhaps they will use it in one of their films.

Is your school a 2041 School? If it isn't ask your teacher to register on Oddizzi!

Thank you!

We'll see you next week for your new
"The World This Week" resource!
